To The Voters of Knox County:

I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Treasurer in the June Primaries. I have entered the race feeling that I am fully qualified to carry out the duties of that office.

If elected I will give a suitable amount of time to the office and perform my duties efficiently and conscientiously.

I solicit the vote of the Knox County Republicans in the Primary Election.

COMES TO ROCKLAND

"Agriculture Train," On Its Third Tour, Will Be Here July 30

The Maine Central's special "Agriculture Train" will again this summer be operated through the principal farming sections of the State it is announced by W. G. Hunton, industrial agent, of Portland.

The train will start from Portland July 28 and for a period of nine days will visit practically every locality along the line. This is the third season of the "Agriculture Train" and again this year the State Department of Agriculture and the University of Maine Agriculture College are cooperating with the Maine Central to make the train the success that it has been in the two previous years.

A special car devoted to the sheep industry from which high-grade ram lambs of different breeds will be exchanged for adult scrub rams in each county. The placing of these ram lambs will be done by the individual county agents, each agent cooperating as far as possible in supplying the particular breed wanted.

A special car for the poultry industry from which roosters will be exchanged on the same basis as rams. Competent lecturers and instructors will be in constant attendance on the train during the entire trip.

The State Department of Agriculture will be in charge of the Seed and Soil Car and University of Maine Agriculture Department will have charge of the Animal Industry and Dairy Car.

PORTLAND TO NEW YORK

The Eastern Steamship Lines announce that their summer service operating between Portland and New York will begin from Portland on Monday, June 23, with the sailing of the ocean-going liner S. S. Northland. The ship sails direct to New York City through the famous Cape Cod Canal and leaves State Pier, Portland Mondays and Fridays at 7:45 p. m. Eastern Standard Time. The Northland is due in New York at 5 p. m. daylight time the following day. There are special accommodations on the ship for automobiles and this feature is considered one which travelers will take advantage of during the current season as they have in the past. By putting their automobiles on the ship, patrons may escape the heavy traffic on the roads during the vacation season and for those planning to go further south than New York this makes an ideal arrangement.

MR. BONNEY'S PLATFORM

Above is a portrait of Fred Bonney, the Franklin County candidate for the Republican Congressional nomination who prefaces his platform with the statement that he is "working for prosperity of Maine" and closes it with the statement that he voted "against shipping power out of the State." He urges greater assistance as regards forestation; the taking of prohibition out of politics; more Federal assistance for Maine roads; attention to air mail; greater assistance from the Department of Commerce for market cooperation; and selling the State more largely to the remaining 47 as one of the vacation playgrounds.

BENNY WINS AGAIN

Camden Golfer For the Second Time Heads the Country Club Tournament

For the second time the Saturday golf tournament bacon was taken home to Camden by that ardent golfer and careful player, Benny Matthews who repeated his triumph of a week ago, his net 66 falling seven strokes below the runner-up, that other genial and devoted player of the game, Fred C. Dyer. The field was a little reduced in numbers by reason of the fishing season, but as soon as the streams and ponds have been cleared, the sportsmen will regain their golf clubs and tournaments with full ranks may confidently be looked for. Saturday's scores:

B. F. Matthews	84-18-66
F. C. Dyer	89-16-75
H. A. Ross	89-13-76
F. C. Jones	92-15-77
H. E. Robinson	88-16-78

PARISH MEETING

Universalists Elect Trustees and Vote For Boy Scout Unit

The annual parish meeting of the Universalist Church was held last evening, with supper under the direction of Mrs. Grace Rollins, president of the Women's Society. Reports of the committees were heard, and these trustees were elected: Eugene E. Stoddard, J. A. Jamieson, Dr. E. W. Peaslee, E. F. Glover, J. Fred Knight, E. R. Veazie and Mrs. E. W. Berry.

Among the matters discussed was the organization of a Boy Scout troop as a part of the church activities, and it was voted to have the basement room put in shape for Scout meetings to begin next fall. The committee in charge of this detail is composed of: M. E. Wotton, E. F. Glover, Hervey Allen, E. R. Veazie, and Rev. George H. Welch.

It was voted to close the church beginning Sunday, July 13 and continuing through August. The remaining church officers are later to be appointed by the trustees.

THANKS WALTON

The Chamber of Commerce Shows Appreciation of Supervisor's Thoroughness

The citizens of Rockland have every reason to feel grateful to Fred R. Walton, supervisor of the census for this district, because it was his persistence supplemented by the use of The Courier-Gazette's columns that made it possible for Rockland to show its head in the 1930-census. Everywhere Supervisor Walton is receiving bouquets and the following is Rockland's contribution through its Chamber of Commerce:

Rockland, June 7, 1930
Hon. W. M. Stewart, Director, Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C.
The Board of Directors of the Rockland Chamber of Commerce have been impressed by the thorough and efficient manner in which the census tabulation has been conducted and takes this opportunity of registering its appreciation of the efforts of Fred R. Walton, Supervisor of the Census, District of Maine, and his capable corps of workers.

Very truly yours,
Allan F. McAlary, President.
Lenore Benner, Acting Sec.

Dugald Dewar Seems Unwilling to Abide By Result of the Primary Election

Dugald B. Dewar, candidate for the Republican nomination of United States senator, declared in a statement Sunday that if he "made any kind of a showing" at the primaries a week from Monday he would run as an independent candidate in the September election.

He characterized as "deliberate falsehoods" reports that he entered the campaign to aid the candidacy of former Gov. Brewster for the Republican nomination for United States senator.

LIONS HEADED FOR ROCKLAND

Convention At Samoset Will Be Big Affair—Smalley Not Candidate For District Governor

One reason why the Weather Bureau is providing rain for the first half of the week is in order that there may be sunny skies for Friday and Saturday when Lions from all over Maine assemble at the Samoset Hotel for their district convention. Lots of outdoor attractions have been arranged for the visitors, and we simply must have good weather to make them successful.

The motorcade at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon will give the public in Camden, Rockport, Rockland and Thomaston an opportunity to see what this rapidly growing fraternal organization is like. The parade route in Rockland will be: Down Main to Talbot avenue, up Talbot avenue to Broadway, down Broadway to Beech, down Beech to Union, down Union to Masonic, up Masonic to Broad over Broad to Park, thence to Thomaston, going as far as the State Prison. Camden and Rockport will be visited before the Lions come to Rockland. It is expected that there will be more than 100 cars in line.

Knox County Lions will learn with much regret that President Charles T. Smalley of the Rockland Club has concluded not to be a candidate for district governor. The stage was all set for the election, but President Smalley does not feel that he can devote the necessary amount of time. The convention program:

Friday
2:00 p. m.—Concert by Rockland Boys' Band.
2:00 p. m.—Registration at conference headquarters, Samoset Hotel.
4:00 p. m.—Convention called to order by District Governor William H. Holman; opening song; invocation, Rev. E. O. Kenyon, Rockland; address of welcome, Charles T. Smalley, president of host club, and J. H. Montgomery, president of Camden-Rockport Club; response, Kingsbury Piper, Bangor-Brewer Club; reports; nomination of candidates for district governor; address by Earl W. Hodges, first vice president of Lions International.
Saturday
8:00 a. m.—Breakfast Round Table, old and new club presidents and secretaries.
9:00 a. m.—Reports and an address, by an international official.
10:45—Sightseeing trip on Stmr. Gov. Bodwell and sports at the Samoset.
1:00 p. m.—Luncheon in main dining room, District Governor Holman presiding and Charles T. Smalley, toastmaster; address Dr. A. O. Thomas; entertainment and stunts presented by Mexico Club and others, President Leon Small chairman.
2:30 p. m.—Reports, election of officers; address, George B. Anderson, assistant secretary of Lions International.
2:30 p. m.—Concert by Camden Boys' Band, bridge tea for the ladies; golf, tennis, bathing.
4:00 p. m.—Motorcade, visiting Camden, the cement plant, Gen. Knox Memorial and State Penitentiary.
6:00 p. m.—Concert by Camden Boys' Band.
7:00 p. m.—Banquet, District Governor Holman presiding and Former District Governor Fred Gabbi as toastmaster; introduction of new district governor; address, Earl W. Hodges; entertainment and stunts by Portland Club.
9:30 p. m.—Dance.

GOV. GARDINER'S REPLY

Inform Foreign Wars Post That 98 Percent of 8000 Employees On Highways Are Maine Men

The attempt to make a political issue by broadcasting a report that Maine labor was not being largely employed in the construction of Maine highways was nipped in the bud yesterday by an official statement from Gov. Gardiner that approximately 98 percent of the employees are Maine men, and that it is the policy of the State Highway Department, not only to employ residents of Maine when possible, but of the locality where the work is being done.

Gov. Gardiner's statement, which comes as a reply to a Foreign Wars Post, which had deplored the employment of non-resident labor to the exclusion of Maine men.

The text of the letter to Philip B. Frothingham Post follows: "The resolution refers to the widespread unemployment in the State. It is to be regretted that any unemployment exists in the State, but I am glad to say that the condition has improved a great deal over the condition prevailing a few months ago. While it is very difficult to arrive at any definite figures, the Commission of Labor estimates that there is less than half the unemployment that existed in the winter. The various companies that carry on woods operations are still in the position to give employment to men looking for work and you will be glad to know that any man applying for such work through the State Department of Labor can be placed. Doubtless your organization might be of some assistance in this respect."

"The resolution is mistaken as to the exhaustion of the appropriation for the World War Relief Commission, June 1, 1930, the balance in that fund was $11,379.15. On April 10, 1930, the Executive Council by Order 216 made $10,000 available additional to the legislative appropriation. "The resolution recites that much of the need for this relief would be obviated by the employment of citizens in State construction projects. If you will examine the record of cases on file with the Relief Commission I am afraid that you would find little warrant for this paragraph of the resolution.

"I assume that before giving publicity to the resolution some of your members made a very thorough inquiry into the matter and perhaps it may be unnecessary for me to call to your attention some of the following facts.

"In the employ of the State Highway Department at the present time there are approximately 8000. While no complete record is at hand I think it is safe to estimate that 98 percent of these are citizens of Maine. Of course many of them are employed locally, the town or city making the contract of employment being reimbursed by the State later. State aid work, maintenance, third class, and special resolve construction are carried on in cooperation between state and local officials, these divisions of the work represent the larger portion of the pay rolls. Some of the bridge construction work and some of the State highway construction work is carried on by our own force. The larger part of the construction on State highways (amounting for this year to about 106 miles) is let to contractors, on competitive bids.

"You are of course familiar with the following specification in the contract: "Other conditions being equal, the contractor in the construction of the work shall give preference in employment of inhabitants of the town in which the work is located."

"The present policy of the Highway Department is to employ whenever possible residents not only of the State but of the locality where work is in progress and to encourage contractors verbally, as well as by expressed specification in the contract, to employ local men. No authority appears to exist to compel them to do so. The resolution recommends a reversal of the present policy, but I gather from the substance of the statement that the present policy accords with your ideas but that you would like to strengthen it if possible in the interest of affording employment for our own citizens and in this I agree with you.

"The resolution recommends the institution of every appropriate means to secure and to insure preference in the employment in all State projects for the citizens of the State of Maine. If any such means can be found in addition to those now used I am sure the officials of the Highway Department would be most appreciative of the suggestion."

SOME PHEASANTS ESCAPED

A few years ago the pheasant house owned by W. F. Morang at Nobleboro was burned to the ground, destroying about $10,000 worth of beautiful birds. The house was found afire from one end to the other and it was apparently the intention of someone to destroy the entire outfit. Some of the varieties were of birds nearly extinct and their eggs were worth $5 apiece. At the time Mr. Morang expressed the opinion that some Hungarian pheasants had escaped and might survive. Very recently Guy Benner found 14 pheasants' eggs in a nest and saw the old bird. Others have seen the birds and been puzzled to identify them. Also, a pair of these birds have been seen near Macrura Pond, which is about 10 miles from the site of the scene of the fire.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

THE WANTS OF MAN

"Man wants but little here below,
Nor wants that little long."
"Tis not with me exactly so;
But 'tis so in the song."
My wants are many and, if told,
Would muster many a score.
And were each wish a mint of gold,
I still should long for more.
I want (who does not want?) a wife—
Affectionate and fair;
To solace all the woes of life,
And all his joys to share.
Of temper sweet, of yielding will,
Of firm, yet pliant mind,
With all my faults to love me still
With sentiment refined.
I want a warm and faithful friend,
To cheer the adverse hour;
Who ne'er to flatter will descend,
Nor bend the knee to power.
A friend to chide me when I'm wrong,
My inmost soul to see;
And that my friendship prove as strong
For him as his for me.
I want the seals of power and place,
The ensigns of command;
Charged by the People's unthought grace
To rule my native land.
Nor crown nor sceptre would I ask
But from my country's will,
By day, by night, to do the task
Her cup of bliss to fill.
These are the Wants of mortal Man,—
I cannot want them long.
For life itself is but a span,
And earthly bliss—a song.
My last great Want—absorbing all—
Is, when beneath the sod,
And summoned to my final call,
The Mercy of my God.
—John Quincy Adams,
Washington, 1841.

FEATURE NUMBER 1 HELIOPORE FLOORS

Are superior to all others because they are PERMANENT and EVERLASTING. Nothing short of a sledge-hammer blow will crack a HELIOPORE FLOOR. Heavy objects dropped will rebound as from a wood floor, causing little or no damage. However, to get at water pipes, to make alterations, etc., individual tiles may be drilled with a star drill in the usual manner, or chipped out if necessary. When replaced, the floor is exactly like new; even a trained eye is scarcely able to detect the replacement. Those who have had experience with Heliopore floors proclaim them to be superior to any wood or hard-surface floor now known.

HELPING THE MEMORIAL

There should be—and we are confident is—a continually growing interest in the memorial to General Knox, the stately proportions of which now stand disclosed upon the heights of Thomaston, overlooking the historic river. What the completed structure shall come to mean to this coast of Maine will more and more stand revealed, as the ancient church with its Paul Revere bell assumes its rightful place in the picture, the grounds fall into their orderly condition and the stately halls and rooms of the reproduced mansion, restored to their former glory, disclose to the present generation a picture of old-time life and manners clothed in the atmosphere of history and romance. It is this increasing interest upon the part of the public which gives assurance that the creation of the memorial is to be rewarded with countrywide favor.

Much remains to be done by way of making Montpelier into an historical picture that shall take its place in the group with Washington's home at Mount Vernon and Thomas Jefferson's "Monticello," both national shrines. There are many under whose eye these lines shall fall who have some knowledge, either direct or by tradition, of the period thus to be memorialized. Already several have come forward with information relating to furnishings of the former mansion, and stories dealing with the family, the life and Knox himself. The committees earnestly desire to gather up every detail of this character and will highly value in the connection every co-operation which friends may be able to give.

BELIEVES IN FLORIDA

The columns of this paper from time to time testify to the fact that the subject of Florida seems always to present itself with interest to a large body of its contributors and readers. This fact justifies in quoting a paragraph or two from a letter written to the editor by that distinguished member of the bar and citizen of Tampa, Col. Peter O. Knight. The letter is a personal one, but we dare say the Colonel will have no objection to our reproducing what he puts into words so concise and convincing.

I venture to say (he writes) that no state in the Union could have withstood what Florida has withstood for the past five years and still be moving along. We have had a boom, deflation, two hurricanes, two freezes, the Mediterranean quit fly, and enough false publicity to bankrupt ten states. We have had since December 31 a shrinkage in our bank deposits from one billion dollars to three hundred million dollars, an amount of money greater than the deposits of all the banks of any state in the south except Texas. And yet there is not a bank with which I am connected—and I am connected with eight—that owes the Federal Reserve Bank, or any New York bank a dollar. On the contrary, half of them have money on call in New York.

This is a state of the most wonderful natural resources and the most recuperative of any state in the Union. Nevertheless its condition, it pays more inheritance taxes per capita and more income taxes per capita than any state in the Union. The state is all right. It is the same climate, soil, geographical position, and natural resources it always has had, and will be going on getting bigger and greater and more prosperous as the years roll by.

THE SEA SERPENT

Knitters in the sun and sitters by the chimney corner never lose interest in tales told of sea monsters, though in these modern days such narratives apparently are largely received with the tongue in the cheek. Thus the Boston Herald, from which we quote:

A prolonged hot spell can be depended on for an old-fashioned sea serpent tale and that's just what the schooner Pollyanna, Capt. Cecil Moulton of Gloucester, brought in from Georges yesterday. It was the first "sighting" yarn of the 1930 season, a bit early, but bristling with thrills. Twenty-three men of the Pollyanna's crew vouch for a spectacle seen two weeks ago when a 150-foot something with head like a horse and poised above a smooth sea appeared alongside like a huge eel, moving at least 10 knots and never disappearing to the westward, still going strong when last seen. The thing was a greenish-black with buff underbody and about the size of a gasoline drum through its middle. The Pollyanna's company undoubtedly breathed easier when the stranger straddled the horizon, for it might have taken possession of the little vessel and rolled it keel up in a jiffy. Be that as it may, old-timers at the fish pier wink slyly at mention of sea serpents with a guess that the Pollyanna fell in with a school of porpoises, for all the world like a huge snake as they leap, roll, dive and wallow.

Herein one perceives the usual note of incredulity when the sea serpent is mentioned. But the evidence the other way is not lightly to be dismissed. We know a man whose veracity can not be questioned who

KIDDIES DID WELL

Presented Operetta "Grandmother's Garden" Before Applauding Crowd

A capacity house greeted the operetta "Grandmother's Garden" presented in the High School auditorium Friday evening under the direction of Miss Esther Stevenson, supervisor of music in the public schools, and the hearty applause testified to the great pleasure given by the performance of the youngsters.

The cast of the operetta, with two exceptions was drawn from Grades 3, 4 and 5, the leads being: Queen, Carol Gardner (high school); Grandmother, Dorothy Harvey, (Junior High); Barbara, Ruth Thomas; Jane, Mary Haveren; Alice, Grace Grant; Mary, Ethel Hayes; Queen's Messenger, Harold Dondis; Frog, Grant Davis; Bumble Bee, George Robshaw; Daisy, Egrnice Haveren; Rosebud, Felice Perry, and Bachelor Button, Edith Berggren. In the "garden" appeared sunflowers, marigolds, hollyhocks, carnations, daisies, roses, pansies, ferns, bachelor buttons, and poppies attended by birds, butterflies, frogs, bees and fairies. These appeared in songs and dances that were entrancing in their vivid color and appeal. Other features included a group of Dutch Children, a minuet of "carnation" garbed lassies, a toe dance by Ruth Dondis (junior high) and Florence Dean, and selections by Rhythmic bands, one group from the sub-primary and the other from the first and second grades.

The operetta progressed smoothly from start to finish. The music was very tuneful, the dances graceful and novel, and the costumes in their various delicate and vivid colors presented a picture not soon to be forgotten. The rhythmic bands won a big hand. In the sub-primary group were about 30 children, the boys wearing white trousers and blouses, with black ties, white caps and red capes. The girls wore white dresses with white caps and red capes. The second group embraced 35 children dressed similarly but with blue capes. The instruments used included triangles, clappers, drums, wood blocks, cymbals, bells, jingle sticks, tambourines and rhythm sticks. The children performed remarkably well, considering the brief time the bands have been organized. Mrs. Charlotte Jackson accompanied in her usual able manner.

A pleasing feature was the arrangement made by Miss Stevenson whereby the children left the stage, not by the side exits, but across the footlights and down a few steps into the center aisle where they marched single file to the back of the auditorium and into the hands of the teachers who took charge of them. This not only provided an opportunity to see the gowns at close-up, but avoided the confusion that often manifests itself on such occasions.

The decorations, done largely by Mrs. Harriet Hall Lufkin and Almon B. Cooper Jr., were of striking simplicity. Streamers of green were used back stage, augmented by a garden arch of lilacs. A huge bank of lilacs extended across the footlights, and large bouquets of spring flowers were used effectively on the stage, the piano, etc. Girls from the senior class ushered efficiently. Too much praise cannot be given Miss Stevenson who worked untiringly to make the operetta a success, lavishing thought and care in the preparation and conducting daily rehearsals in addition to carrying on her regular routine work in the schools. Her ability is reflected in the unanimous opinion that the operetta stands out as the most successful school undertaking of this type. Miss Stevenson on the other hand is warm in her admiration and appreciation of the cooperation given by all the teachers and parents, feeling the success would have been small without their help and enthusiasm.

"ON MY SET"

Rev. Benjamin P. Browne of Winchester, Mass., formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city, is to conduct the service of the Federated Churches over WBZ tomorrow at 10 a. m.

Democrats held a Statewide rally in Missouri Saturday night and started a Presidential boom for former Senator James A. Reed. The turbulent Missourian is certainly a fine orator, as noted by his radio speech Saturday night.

A series of concerts by the General Electric Band was begun Saturday night. It is a fine organization, well worth your attention.

A popular feature of the morning broadcast on WCSH and WEEI is the radio talkie "What Happened To Jane." In Thursday's broadcast Jane will try her hand at driving Ted's new car.

Do I imagine it, or is the Jenny band concert getting a little better each Sunday night?

Gilbert and Sullivan operas were heard over again in the Atwater Kent program Sunday night, under the most favorable conditions of reception. "Mikado," "H. M. S. Pinafore" and "The Pirates of Penzance"—they have never lost their power to thrill and amuse.

It is safe to say that all followers of the Braves were in fine fettle Sunday afternoon when the Boston team was having its big inning against Pittsburgh.

Tomorrow night at 10.30 o'clock, Grantland Rice will interview Benny Leonard and we shall get some first hand dope on the Sharkey-Schmeling fight which is to take place the following night. The big scrap is to be broadcast over stations WEEI, WBZ and WCSH, beginning at 9.30 o'clock.

has looked upon one of these strange creatures of the deep, close in by the Knox County shore. Since we listened to his story, doubt of the sea serpent has never lain in our mind.

Weather This Week
Weather outlook for week in North and Middle Atlantic states: Mostly fair until Thursday or Friday when showers are indicated; cool at the beginning of the week with slowly rising temperatures the middle of the week.

The Fire Department has a meeting at 7 o'clock tonight.

F. M. Tibbets is having his vacation from the Postoffice.

The Ladies' Aid holds its regular supper at the Methodist vestry Wednesday at 6 o'clock. There will also be an all-day rummage sale.

Harry Wilbur, who has been attached to the staff of Alan L. Birds law office, is to be married in Arlington, Mass., tomorrow to Miss Agnes Brooks.

Repairs and improvements on the Limerock street house bought by Wilbur Cross are nearing completion and the family expect to occupy it next week.

Have you registered? If not you should attend to that duty before Wednesday night if you wish to take part in the primary election next Monday.

The Chamber of Commerce requests Rockland merchants to display their flags Friday and Saturday on the occasion of the District Lions Convention at the Samoset.

The Stonington Fuel & Lumber Co. has been incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000. B. Lake Noyes is president, George B. Noyes is treasurer and D. Jewell Noyes clerk.

Major Kenneth P. Lord, who has been stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, has been transferred to Washington for one year, and is now there on a 10-day leave of absence. The family leaves for Rockland, June 21.

William J. Perry, long time restaurant man, has opened a new lunch room just south of the Eastern Furniture Co. store under the name of the Green Lantern and will be pleased to welcome all his old-time patrons and friends.

An event of particular local interest took place at the weekend State Spiritualists' Convention held at Pittsfield when the Rockland Spiritualists' Association was awarded a handsome American flag and standard for showing the greatest percentage increase in Maine. Several automobiles conveyed the large local delegation to the convention.

Among the members of the Edwin Libby Relief Corps who are to attend the annual convention of the State Relief Corps, in Portland this week are Mrs. Rebecca Ingraham, Mrs. Amanda Choate, Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, Mrs. Eliza Plummer, Mrs. Julia Huntley, Mrs. Winifred Butler, Mrs. Mary Cooper, Mrs. Ella McMillan, Mrs. Maude Cables and Mrs. Bessie Haraden.

The annual alumni reception to the members of the graduating class, will take place Friday evening at the High School auditorium, presided over by Dr. Linwood Rogers, president. In addition to an entertainment which is to provide several novel features there will be cards and dancing. The committee in charge is making an effort to provide features to reach and interest members of all ages and are hoping for a banner attendance.

The matter of a lighthouse depot for Rockland, concerning which little has been heard of late, is still occupying the government's mind, and through the efforts of Congressman White the Commissioners of Lighthouses has advised the Rockland Chamber of Commerce that a representative will be here the last of the week. J. N. Southard has been designated to meet him, and the representative will find Mr. Southard cocked and primed with reasons why the station should be built here instead of some remote point on the coast.

An interested observer at the Rockland-Lisbon Falls game in Thomaston yesterday afternoon was C. E. Bonnan, a prominent resident of Vinalhaven, whose son, Herbert E. Bonnan, is principal of Lisbon Falls High School and coach of the baseball team, having filled both capacities to the complete satisfaction of the townspeople. Mr. Bonnan, senior, accompanied his son back to Lisbon Falls and will be present when the latter's daughter, Ruth Augusta Bonnan, graduates from Lisbon Falls this week.

Park Theatre was compelled to turn 'em away last night. Go early if you would see "Hold Everything."

There will be a special communication of Aurora Lodge Wednesday at 4.30 standard time. Work on the Master Mason degree upon several candidates. At 5.30 a chicken supper will be served by Golden Rod Chapter. The last session of the degree will be conferred at 6.30.

There was a distinct note of triumph in M. Frank Donohue's voice this morning, as he announced that lots of horses are coming for the Fourth of July celebration races at Knox Trotting Park. The classes are: 2.17 purse, $200; 2.20, purse $150; 2.25 purse $150. All mixed races.

Writing from 725, 13th Ave., St. Petersburg, Fla., to the home paper, Joshua Thordike, that the staunch native of South Thomaston, says: "I am not going to Maine this season. My health is much better here. Delightful weather, cool nights with a good breeze. If I don't like later, on the trains run out as well as in."

Ether M. Chapman of Linwood, Penn., granddaughter of Mrs. Martha Koster, Broad street, graduated from Linwood Grammar School June 5. Miss Chapman has the distinction of going through in seven years and received from the Knights of Pythias $5 in gold for highest scholastic rating. She also received $2.50 in gold for an average of over 90 in Delaware County examinations.

The Maine Dental Association will hold its annual convention June 19-20-21 at Poland Spring, the opening session being on Thursday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. In connection with the convention there will be the annual golf tournament, and features such as bridge and tea for the ladies. The convention will close on Saturday, with Arthur G. Staples, editor of the Lewiston Journal, as the speaker.

At the annual meeting of the Girl Scout Council Thursday afternoon these officers were re-elected: Mrs. Ruth Ellingwood, commissioner; Miss Lucy Rhodes, deputy commissioner; Mrs. Orissa Merrill, secretary; Herman Hart, treasurer. Other members of the council are John Thompson, Rev. W. S. Rounds, Rev. Jesse Kennerline, Mrs. Maude Blodgett, Mrs. Rosa Littlefield, Miss Ellen Cochran, Miss Anna Coughlin, Mrs. Eva Toner, Miss Margaret Flanagan, Mrs. Nina Beverage, Mrs. Sarah Snow, Mrs. Harriet Sherman, Mrs. Gertrude Wooster, Mrs. Edna French and Mrs. Gladys Morgan.

The children's party given by Miriam Rebekah Lodge Saturday afternoon had 40 little folks in attendance, together with several mothers. Miss Madeline Rogers as chairman was assisted by Mrs. Josephine Burns, Mrs. Ida Huntley, Miss Vivian Ludwick, Mrs. Grace Ludwick, and Mrs. Marguerite Johnson. The program included piano solos by Kathleen Chase and Marian Ludwick; songs by Ernest Johnson and Charles Huntley; recitations by Milton Rollins Jr., George Huntley, Virginia Richards; and harmonica solos by Ernest Johnson, the final number being the singing of "America" by all the children. Games followed the program. Refreshments were served from tables set in yellow decorations featuring flowers and candy.

Next Saturday all roads will lead to the Camden baseball park where Thomaston High and Rockland High are going to play the rubber game to decide the championship of the Knox and Lincoln League. Both teams have completed their regular season and each has won eight games and lost two. Betting the fans want to see a winner, and that a rubber game will help fill depleted treasuries. Principals Sturtevant and Elmsdell agreed to have another game for the purpose of breaking the tie, and the contest will take place in Camden—neutral territory. Rockland and Thomaston have made the same number of scores played against each other and in all respects appear to be about evenly matched. Carleton of Wisconsin and McCall of Augusta will be the umpires.

The Universalist Mission Circle meets Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Susie Davis, South Main street. After the 12.30 luncheon, the members will finish the year's sewing and at 2.30 the business meeting, including election of officers, will take place. Together with the devotional service there will be the usual response of religious current events to the roll call. Mrs. E. W. Berry will conduct a round table discussion of the topic "What Can I Do To Make Our Meetings More Helpful and Interesting Next Year?" Each member is asked to drop one or more unsigned written suggestions into the box provided by the leader and be prepared to take part to the flag, repeating of the scout motto and laws, songs, games and stunts. Blue Bonnet Troop made a splendid showing throughout the entire rally, winning first place twice in games. Box lunch was augmented by ice cream and cookies served by the Bangor girls. Transportation was provided for within the troop, the only other car enlisted being that of Mrs. John O. Stevens, driven by Mrs. Stevens herself, a courtesy greatly appreciated by Captain Beverage and the Scouts.

NOW FOR THE PLAYOFF

Rockland and Thomaston To Play In Camden Saturday At 2.30 For the League Championship

Well, it happened! Rockland took Camden's measure in fine style Saturday and is now even Stephen with Thomaston for the championship of the Knox and Lincoln League. Principals Blaisdell and Sturtevant have buried the hatchet, and the rubber game will be played in Camden Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Take along a bottle of smelling salts, for the suspense is going to be great.

Because the scorebook got sidetracked the box score of the Rockland High-Lisbon Falls game is not available. Lisbon won 9 to 5, but had some very anxious moments before victory was assured. The game was played in Thomaston because no boats were available for a game at Community Park. The score will appear in Thursday's issue.

Rockland 25, Camden 6
Rockland High completed its schedule Saturday when it defeated Camden High by the ratio of a little better than four to one on the Camden ground. Three Mequonook twirlers were pounded for a total of 42 bases while the home team appeared to be almost powerless with the willow except in the first and last innings. The batting heroes of the day were Seavey who made five hits for a total of nine bases; Brown who made four hits for a total of seven bases; Murphy and Bickmore, who made four singles, and Inman, who made three hits for a total of six bases.

The game was marked by the weirdest kind of baserunning. The Park Theatre is offering the first four days of this week that great technicolor talkie "Hold Everything," featuring Joe E. Brown and Winnie Lightner as stars, and Georges Carpentier and Abe Lyman with his famous band. The week's feature attractions at the Strand are: Today, Edmund Lowe in "Born Reckless;" Wednesday and Thursday, "The Case of Sergeant Grisham;" Friday and Saturday, "Jazz Heaven," with Sally O'Neil and John Mack Brown.

W. O. Fletcher, who left Rockland 50 years ago, and is manager of the Loveland (Colorado) Fruit Growers' Association, was among the many friends who felt deep sorrow in the death of Gen. Lord. The deceased graduated from Mr. Fletcher's High School, in Rockland, in the late seventies, and it was under Mr. Fletcher's instruction that he fitted for college—hence the friendly interest which has ever since led to the frequent exchange of correspondence. Mr. Fletcher observed his 87th birthday May 19, enjoys fair health and is daily at his office.

President Ralph Wentworth of the Forty Club was the speaker at yesterday's luncheon using as his theme the work of the Farm Bureau in this area. The talk was illustrated with local stereoscopic views and proved interesting. Richard Reed was admitted to membership, S. Nilo Spear presiding.

A very generous public response has greeted the tickets for the Parent-Teacher Association Milk Fund ball which is to be held in Oakland Park ballroom June 16. The work of the association among the children is so well and favorably known that everybody wants to help swell the milk fund for next year.

Among the members of the Auxiliary of Sons of Union Veterans who are planning to attend the 39th annual State Encampment in Portland this week are Mrs. Nellie Achorn, Mrs. Elizabeth Murray, Mrs. Mabel Beaton, Mrs. Mae Cross, Mrs. Stasia Harmon, Mrs. Emma Douglas, Mrs. Helen Paladino, Mrs. Nellie McKinney, Mrs. Stella McKee and Mrs. May Reed.

Donald B. Partridge of Norway was the guest of his niece, Mrs. Alta Dimick last night. He is one of the candidates for the Republican nomination for Representative to Congress from the Second District and is visiting Rockland and surrounding towns in the interest of his campaign. Mr. Partridge is very well pleased with his reception and the support pledged to him. He is confident of victory on the 16th. Today he will be in Lincoln County and Wednesday in Sagadahoc. While in Rockland Mr. Partridge took time from his campaigning to call on Mrs. Helena Roberts of 50 Holmes street who has been ill for several months. Mrs. Roberts was a classmate at Bates of both Mr. and Mrs. Partridge.

SAUNTERINGS

It is fine on a bright spring morning to saunter through Brattle street in Old Cambridge. The houses are large, built of wood, painted white or yellow, and set back some distance from the street. The grounds are well kept, the grass is green, and at the present time the flower beds are blooming with jonquills, narcissus, pansies, etc., and it is a very pretty sight. The street is wide, no car tracks, and is kept in excellent condition.

There are many famous mansions on this street, the "Longfellow House" of course having the chief claim to distinction. It was built in 1759 by Col. John Vassal, a refugee of the Revolution. Washington had his headquarters in it in 1776 and Madam Washington joined him here. After the Revolution the estate passed into the hands of various owners. The Widow Craigie owned it and ran it as a boarding house for Harvard professors. Farred Sparks, Edward Everett, Worcester, the dictionary maker, and other famous persons lived there. Finally it became the home of the poet Longfellow. Across Brattle street is Longfellow park, and then the parkway to the Charles River, so the view can never be obstructed from house to river. That Longfellow loved the Charles is well attested by his poem, "To The River Charles."

Seven! In silence windest
Through the meadows bright and free,
Till at length thy rest thou findest
In the bosom of the sea!

Four long years of mingled feeling,
Half in reg., and half in strife,
I have seen thee waters winding
Onward, like the sea of life!

Thou hast taught me, Silent River!
Many a lesson, deep and long;
Thou hast been a generous giver:
I have seen thee waters strong.

Next to the poet's home is the home of his daughter, Mrs. Richard H. Dana. Just beyond is the Nicholls house, built 1660 and looks fair to last another 270 years. Beyond this is the

RUPTURE EXPERT

For Men, Women and Children

COMING TO ROCKLAND
Representing
WM. S. RICE, Inc.
of ADAMS, N. Y.

The Rice Rupture Method Expert, personal representative of William S. Rice, Adams, N. Y., will be at the Hotel Rockland, Rockland Me., Monday, June 16. Every ruptured man, woman and child should take advantage of this great opportunity.

The Rice Method for Rupture is known the world over. You can now see this Method demonstrated and have a Rice Appliance fitted to you. Absolutely no charge unless you are satisfied to keep the Outfit after having the Appliance adjusted and you see how perfectly and comfortably it holds. No harsh, deep-pressing springs; nothing to gouge the flesh and make you sore. Can be worn night and day with positive comfort. Soft, rubber-like composition pad, any degree of pressure required.

Don't wear a truss all your life when thousands have reported cures through using the Rice Method. Why suffer the burden of rupture if there is a chance to be free from truss-wearing forever? Anyway, it will cost you nothing to come in and learn all about the Rice Method and the wonderful opportunity for help and cure it offers in your case. Remember this Expert will be here only one day; then your opportunity will be gone. Just ask at the hotel desk for the Rice Expert and he will do the rest. Call any time from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., or 7 to 9 evening. Don't miss this great opportunity to see the Expert in person. If for any reason you cannot call write for FREE TRIAL to Wm. S. Today the swallows were numerous in the fells. I did not attempt to classify them, but as there were no barns, caves or chimneys near I thought they might be tree swallows.

I love to watch them, they are so graceful, now soaring high in the air, now skimming the tree tops and the lake. Always on the move, darting higher and thither, and presumably picking up the day's ration out of the air.

RAILROAD BARGAIN DAYS

"Bargain days on the Maine Central Railroad are proving very popular with the traveling public." General Passenger Agent Harris announced to a representative of The Courier-Gazette.

"I find in checking up with our agents along the line, that a great many people are taking advantage of the new low rate of only one fare plus 25 cents for a round trip ticket between any two points on the system on sale week days and weekends. A great many new patrons, and many of the old who formerly used their automobiles for business and pleasure trips, are finding it more economical to buy our round trip tickets.

"Since the inception of the 'Bargain Days,' on the Road," Mr. Harris continued, "we have in addition to placing the tickets on sale in Maine, extended the privilege on the day of date round trip from Fryeburg to Bartlett, N. H., on the White Mountain Division and have also placed the weekend tickets on sale at all stations on the system, including Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont."

PLEASANT POINT

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Messer of Union spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Stevens.

Mrs. Lillian Marshall of Portland visited her niece Mrs. Everett Davis last week.

Visitors at F. A. Flinton's Saturday were William Flinton of New York and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Morton of Rockland.

Mr. McFarland of New Harbor was at F. A. Flinton's recently.

Our road commissioner, George Casalis is repairing the roads here at Pleasant Point. Ferdinand Morse is assisting him.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Marshall of South Hope attended the supper and entertainment in the schoolhouse Thursday evening.

Mrs. John Maxwell is confined to her bed by illness and is attended by Dr. Coombs of Waldoboro.

Mrs. Olive Barter attended the graduation of nurses of Knox Hospital in Rockland last Wednesday evening, her daughter Miss Evelyn Barter being one of the graduates.

Mrs. Rose Robinson, Mrs. Milton Robinson, Mrs. Mildred Pottle and Mrs. Ralph Wyllie of Warren were guests of Mrs. Everett Davis last Tuesday.

Mrs. Grace Maloney has received news of the death of Mrs. Robert A. Patton, which occurred at her home in Philadelphia last week. Mrs. Patton with her family have spent their vacations at their summer home "Christmas Lodge" here for a number of years, and much sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Several of the men of this place have been employed digging clams for the Black & Gay factory in Thomaston this spring. June 1 was the last day that the factory was to buy, and Melville J. Maloney improved it by digging 17 bushels.

The supper and entertainment held in the schoolhouse last Thursday evening by Miss Evelyn Mossman and her pupils was a great success. The house was filled, and $18 realized. After the supper tables had been cleared away the following program was furnished, which was greatly enjoyed, and showed much talent:

Singing, America, by all; recitation, "Welcome," Laurice Young; play, "The Doctor's Busy Day," Doctor, Harland Davis; Miss Taken, Anna Seavey; Johnny Cane, Howard Orne; "Miss Chief," Edith Orne; recitation, "The Lost Doll," Gwendolyn Stimpson; song, "I Don't Work For a Living," Evelyn Mossman; skit, "Roses in June," Anna Seavey; Avis Maloney, Marion Coombs and Edith Orne; recitation, Harland Davis; play—"Jemima's Peddlers," Jemima, Marion Coombs; Sam, Carl Young; Moses, Avis Maloney; Elder Goodman, Evelyn Mossman; recitation, Bernice Orne; vocal duet, Evelyn Mossman and Marion Orne; recitation, Marion Coombs; song, "I'm a Dreamer," Miss Mossman; play—"The Goat Boy," recitation, Avis Maloney.

HISTORY OF LIONS

Timely Story In View of Convention At the Samoset Next Week

Lionism, as the world knows it today, originated in the mind of Melvin Jones of Chicago in the year 1914. He was a leader in a band of associated business clubs, and the inspiration came to him that the only way the clubs could accomplish anything in a large way was to form an association, national or international in scope.

In that year Melvin Jones sent letters to all business lunch clubs of the United States which were not affiliated with some central body asking their officers to consider such an association. The seed thus sown germinated, but it was three years before the actual work of forming an association could be taken up.

It was in May, 1917, that the Business Circle of Chicago, a gathering of business clubs of which Melvin Jones was secretary, issued a formal call for a meeting to consider a permanent association, national in scope. That meeting was held in Chicago, June 7, 1917. About 20 delegates attended, representing more than 50 clubs.

They adopted a resolution under which the International Association of Lions Clubs was organized, and a call issued for a national convention to be held at Dallas, Texas. It was, therefore on June 7, 1917, that the International Association of Lions Clubs came into being.

Meantime, in the three years which had elapsed between the sending out of the first letter by Melvin Jones, and the formation of a national association, a number of individual clubs were organized, some under the name "Lions," some under other names.

In the summer of 1915 there was founded in San Antonio, Texas, the first Lions Club. At the first annual convention, held at Dallas, 1917, the formal organization of the association, with accredited delegates in attendance, was completed. Dr. W. P. Woods of Evansville, Ind., was elected president. Melvin Jones of Chicago was elected secretary-treasurer, which office he has held continuously since.

The second annual convention was held at St. Louis, 1918. L. H. Lewis of Dallas, Texas was elected president.

The third annual convention was held at Chicago. The association at this time had 42 clubs and 294 members. The association adopted its "Code of Ethics," its "Lions Club Objects," and the slogan, "Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nation's Safety." Jesse Robinson of Oakland, Calif. was elected president.

The fourth annual convention was held at Denver, 1920, with 647 members represented by delegates from 113 clubs. Dr. C. C. Reid of Denver was elected president.

The fifth annual convention was held at Oakland, Calif., 1921. The clubs numbered 229, the members 13,789. Ewen W. Cameron of Minneapolis was elected president.

The sixth annual convention was held at Hot Springs, Ark., 1922. There were 498 clubs in the association, with 26,742 members. Edw. S. Vaught of Oklahoma City was elected president.

The seventh annual convention was held at Atlantic City, N. J., 1923. The clubs now numbered 834, the members 32,632. John S. Noel, Grand Rapids, Mich., was elected president.

The eighth annual convention was held at Omaha, Neb., 1924. There were 761 clubs with 39,949 members in the organization. Harry A. Newman of Toronto, Ont., was elected president.

The ninth annual convention was held at Cedar Point, Ohio, 1925. The clubs numbered 942, the members 43,919. Benjamin F. Jones of Newark, N. J., was elected president.

The tenth annual convention was held at San Francisco, 1926. There were then 1077 clubs with 48,363 members. William A. Westfall of Mason City, Iowa, was elected president.

The eleventh annual convention was held at Miami, Fla., 1927. The clubs numbered 1178, the members 51,574. Irving L. Camp of Johnstown, Pa., was elected president.

The twelfth annual convention was held at Des Moines, Iowa, 1928. There were at that time 1456 Lions Clubs with 59,459 active members. Ben A. Ruffin of Richmond, Va., was elected to the presidency.

The thirteenth annual convention was held at Louisville, Ky., 1929. The year had been notable for the rapid growth of Lionism, the number of clubs having increased to 1852, and the active membership to 68,859. Ray L. Riley of Sacramento, controller of the State of California, was elected president.

The fourteenth annual convention was held at St. Paul, Minn., 1930. The clubs numbered 2,100, the members 100,000. The convention was held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Mrs. R. E. Harmon returned Friday night from a visit with her daughter Miss Doris Harmon in Boston.

The circle of the Congregational Church will hold the regular supper next Thursday. The committee: Mrs. Alice Watts, Mrs. Rosina Buber, Mrs. Ruby Kallio, Mrs. Olive Peabody, Mrs. Fannie Wyllie.

Mrs. Arthur L. Perry motored to Portland last Thursday and on her return was accompanied by her son Walter who attends school there.

Miss Beulah Starrett came home from the University of Maine last Thursday for the summer vacation.

Mrs. John Fogg and son John arrived from Portland Thursday to spend the summer with her mother Mrs. Annie Spear.

Roland Starrett, who has employment at New Sharon, spent the weekend with friends and relatives.

Pearl Hilton was home for the weekend.

The 4H Club met with its leaders Misses Annie Starrett and Bertha Hunt at the Baptist Church Wednesday evening of the senior class of which their nephew, Ralph Norwood, was a member.

Mrs. Harold Drewett went to Boston Friday for medical treatment.

Miss Edna Boggs entertained eight friends Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Everett Cunningham. Sandwiches, dainty cookies and iced tea were served. Amusing games and contests were the principal form of amusement, and the honor guest won the first prize.

Mrs. R. J. Andrews has an exceptionally fine tulip bed, made in the shape of a diamond. A neighbor counted 210 blossoms. From her garden Mrs. Andrews very generously gave a huge bouquet for last Sunday's decorations.

Knox was held at Martinsville Saturday at an all-day session. There were 125 members present and 13 visitors. Those who attended from Warren were Mr. and Mrs. Judson Benner, Mrs. Hattie McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Norwood, Mrs. Jesse Mills, Mrs. Sarah Starrett, Frank Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carroll and Frank Stahl.

Frank H. Ingraham of Rockland and Ex-Gov. Brewster proved interesting speakers.

WARREN HIGH GRADUATION

Glover hall had an unusually attractive decoration for the graduation held the evening of June 5. The color scheme was rose and green, worked out on a rose arbor, designed by Mr. Madden. Banked in the background were evergreen and paper roses and a trellis. Above this the class motto in rose, "Do More, Wish Less." In the foreground was a garden fence, the lumber used donated by Charles Starrett, and the stage itself was covered with a moss green carpet. Overhead were interwoven streamers of rose and grey crepe paper.

The lower classmen marched in attendance by the flower girls, Gloria Haskell, Ethola Stimpson and Beverly Cogan carrying dainty baskets. When the school had taken their places standing, the graduating class filed in, with little Miss Ruth Starrett in the lead carrying a basket of American Beauty roses. Rev. H. M. Purinton had the invocation.

The salutatory by Irven Gammon was worthy of much praise. He impressed the minds of the classmates with the idea that they owed the community a debt of no small amount, saying, "If I were to express in one sentence what I should do to repay the community I would say—Be good citizens. It has been estimated that it cost each community about $300 the training of a child the 12 years he goes to school. Each should feel that he or she holds this in trust and is expected to return it in some way to those who gave it."

Ralph Norwood treated the Class History in a very satisfactory way and told how the class had dwindled from 24 freshmen to only five seniors.

The Lillian Keniston was assigned Presentation of Gifts and Will, which she accomplished exceedingly well. The gifts were not presented as jokes but rather as souvenirs to cherish in memory of the carefree days of school.

Edna Post gave the Address to the Undergraduates, and admonished them that though the way might be rough, to stick to and finish the course.

The class presented Miss Adelaide Coombs with a bunch of magnificent roses, and Mr. Madden and Mr. Rowe with gold pieces in appreciation of the many things each had done to help them.

Sherwood Sidelinger had the most difficult essay—Valedictory and Farewell extracts from which are: "Life's vista now opens before us. A feeling of sadness mingles with our joy. We know from this time on we will live different lives. Difference of thought and opinion will widen the gulf which will be spanned only by the common memory of these school days. Lessons in punctuality, perseverance, and industry acquired the past years will help us toward our goal of success. It is the manner with which we meet adversity, and responsibilities that determines our character. In the hope of a successful future, with many pleasant memories of our schooldays together, and with the assurance of an unfailing affectionate remembrance, I bid you now, farewell.

In presenting the diplomas tied with rose and gray satin ribbon Mr. Rowe told the story of a man who had not made his mark in the world. In promotions it was always the other fellow who stepped up. Finally, in desperation the man went to his employer and said, "It seems to me that someone is holding me back." The man turned him to a mirror: "There," he said, "is the only man in the world who is holding you back." Graduates, remember it is you, and only you, who are responsible for your success in this world or lack of it.

The graduation ball followed the exercises after a short informal reception.

Her Majesty The Modern Woman

IT'S a far cry back hundreds of years ago when woman was considered a chattel and endured the hardships of slavery and serfdom. Nor is there a more encouraging development for the future welfare of humanity than the continual evolution and development of woman. Through the ages we have heard of Woman's Sphere, and, with the passing of the years, this sphere has been a constantly enlarging one until today the Woman's Sphere practically encompasses the entire realm of activities that were formerly to be found only in the man's world.

Her majesty, the modern woman, stands on a basis of equality with man and is found in the front ranks as the leader in some of our most progressive movements. She is the mainstay of the three greatest factors in community life: the Home, the Church and the School. While man is still the major breadwinner, yet one-fifth of all persons, gainfully occupied, are girls and women. So well have they served modern industry, business and professional life could ill afford to do without them.

The greatest contribution that woman makes to America and to the community is in her role as wife and mother. She cares for the children, keeping constant watch over them and guiding them through their infancy and adolescence. She keeps the home, that great sanctuary of American life, and fosters the best interests of family life. Woman has much more to do with the Standard of living in the Home and for the family than does the man.

Although men are in the majority as wage earners, two-thirds of the family income is spent by women.

These expenditures are made in practically every field of activity. Today she is the chief customer of business. For example, women buy 78% of the pianos; 49% of men's socks; 81% of the groceries; 82% of department store merchandise; 98% of the silks; 78% of the drugs, 80% of the jewelry. An odd list, picked at random, but typical of the important part played by women in our modern world.

Chauncey Stuart, formerly of Rockland, and Miss Elsie Clark of Camden were married in Hollis Center last Thursday night, the officiating clergyman being the bridegroom's father, Rev. O. W. Stuart, former pastor of the Littlefield Memorial Church. Among the guests were Sherman Lord, Miss Beria Lord, Miss Eva Ames, Miss Arlene Chaples and Harold Wixson. The bridegroom is a member of the Boston College and is now preaching in Hollis Center. The bride has many friends in this section of the county.

FOR THE FARMERETTE

Friends have indicated a desire to assist the young farmerette who recently lost a valuable horse, and the Courier-Gazette will receive and forward funds that may be provided for that purpose. Several contributions have already been received. The list will be duly published.

A THOUSAND YEARS

[For The Courier-Gazette] The king has gone upon his wandering: From Yarrow cell I glance upon the sea; A mist hangs there, but stinging blithely Above my window swings a thrush. Harping Of hard, or waiting change, imagining Of better, here I hum uncaringly In scarlet, gold, and blue lace tracery With pen of reed; and list to friars chanting The storms of tyranny sweep o'er my heart; I lift my thought to the clouds and see The tragedy of new men in the dust. Their glory in their reason and their art. And so, I frame their deeds in poetry. I paint their portraits. Why? Because I must.

MRS. MACRAE COMING

Head of American Legion Auxiliary To Be in Bangor, June 24

Mrs. Donald Macrae, National Legion Auxiliary president, will make her official visit with the Department of Maine, Legion Auxiliary, June 24 in Bangor. The Knox County Legion Auxiliary women are much interested in the coming event and a number from this section will be present.

Mrs. Donald Macrae, the national president, will arrive when the afternoon session is well underway but every minute of her time has been planned while she is in Bangor. The program, as far as arranged is:

Mrs. Donald Macrae, National President, American Legion Auxiliary

1.30 p. m. daylight time, meeting of the Department Executive Committee, 2.30 conference for all members and officers of the Auxiliary; 3.40 a committee will meet Mrs. Macrae at the train and escort her to the Conference. The afternoon session will be devoted to discussion of Legion and Auxiliary problems in the Legion Club Rooms.

At the banquet in the evening, Mrs. Macrae will be the chief speaker. The toastmistress will be the Department president, Mrs. Agnes J. Burdick of Sanford. Music will be furnished by the American Legion band of Bangor.

As National President of the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Donald Macrae, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, is the leader of the largest women's patriotic organization in the world. She has the responsibility of directing the activities of nearly 350,000 mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of World War veterans who are banded together in the Auxiliary to work for the welfare of the disabled veterans, the families of the dead and disabled, and the general welfare of the country. Few women in the world today hold positions of greater influence and responsibility.

HAPPY OBSERVED

Edwin Libby Relief Corps Celebrates Its 46th Anniversary

The 46th anniversary of Edwin Libby Relief Corps was observed in a fitting manner Thursday afternoon at Grand Army hall before a large gathering of members and friends who expressed their warm approval of the dignified exercises as carried out under the direction of Mrs. Eliza Plummer, patriotic instructor, as general chairman.

Effective decorations were used throughout the hall, several beautiful bouquets from local patriotic bodies being prominently displayed and later distributed among members who were seated in the hall.

The program opened at 2.30, with the line of march headed by Commander J. F. Woods, acting for Commander W. P. Hurley, who was unable to be present; and Mrs. Bessie Haraden, president of the Corps. Others in the march were six comrades and past presidents, also Judge E. K. Gould, speaker.

Richardson, the response being made by Past State President, Mrs. Mary Plummer, Judge Gould's address along patriotic lines was splendidly presented. Mrs. Haraden in her capacity as president spoke briefly. A particularly interesting feature was the history of the Corps since its organization, June 18, 1884, as given by Mrs. Irene Winslow. Four of the charter members are living, Mrs. Sarah Hull, Mrs. Clara Green, Miss Ella Day and Mrs. Lou Irish.

The present membership includes 182 names. Vocal solos were given by Mrs. Ruth Sewall, Mrs. Evelyn White and Miss Lorna Post, and a vocal duet by Mrs. Ida Huntley and Mrs. Velma Marsh.

Buttuff lunch under the direction of Mrs. Haraden was served during the informal reception.

CLARK ISLAND

Mrs. Charles Rowland has returned from a visit with her daughter Mrs. Belle Wade in Methuen, Mass.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mattson at Knox Hospital Thursday, May 29.

Robert Magee is making extensive repairs on his garage.

Business continues brisk at the local quarry, the latest arrivals on the paving job are Charles Falk and William Olson from Carlton, Georgia, and Henning Peterson from New York city.

The Friday night dances given by the Improvement Association are holding their attendance very well. The monthly report made by the committees in charge show the attendance varies but little each week.

Mrs. Lucy Freeman and Miss Rose Edwards of Watham, Mass., spent the holiday with their mother Mrs. Rose Edwards.

The Village school closed June 6, for the summer vacation. The children under the care of Miss Adrea Bartlett, teacher, enjoyed a picnic on Clark Island on that date.

Oliver McArdle has a new Ford coupe.

The Baccalaureate Sermon

The 52 students above named attended the Congregational Church, Sunday, and listened to words of wisdom and kindly advice which fell from the lips of Rev. Walter S. Rounds, pastor of the church and preacher of the baccalaureate sermon. To Mr. Rounds this was a doubly pleasurable duty for one of the listeners was his own son, William, who will figure prominently in Thursday night's commencement exercises as class valedictorian.

Mr. Rounds took as his text, "My soul waiteth for the Lord more than they that watch for the morning; I say, more than they that watch for the morning."

As a watchman longs for the coming of day which will release him from the night of duty, so the student waits for the end of trouble and the dawn of a brighter day. With the morning release would come.

Members of the class of 1930, you have chosen as your motto, "Sunrise behind; the day ahead." The hour for which you have waited has come, a period of preparation is over; before you lie the day.

To be sure the past four years cannot be likened to night. You have not walked in darkness. You have joked and laughed and played. But you have finished a task to which duty called, and now the time of waiting is over. Sunrise has come and is over; a day of achievement lies ahead.

It is our wish that the day be bright with sunshine. May happiness and good fortune attend you. It is inevitable that clouds will gather, and at times the light of the sun may be totally eclipsed. Then there is need to let patience do her perfect work, and to walk by faith when sight fails. Again the sun will burst forth in glory, which will be as the coming of a new day.

STRAND THEATRE

If you want a drama that's different see "The Case of Sgt. Grischa" which plays here Wednesday and Thursday. To quote the critic, "This picture stands out like a light-house in a season of musical fluff and drawing room nonsense."

Sgt. Grischa, played by Chester Morris, is caught in the claws of war when he tries to escape from a prison camp to return to his home. Grischa's escape from the prison camp in snowed Poland; his experiences in the forest with the outlaws; his romance with Babka, the Russian refugee; his amazing adventures in Mervinsk occupied by the Germans; his unconscious influence on his military superiors, resulting in a dramatic clash between two German generals; and his eventual resignation to the dictates of Fate—all of these are real as bits of life.—adv.

EAST APPLETON

Memorial Day many visitors were in Appleton and at Pine Grove cemetery, where exercises were held in the afternoon. The graves were bright with beautiful floral tributes, flags for the soldiers, and markers.

Among recent out of town guests in town were Mrs. Ida Simmons Erskine and son.

The recent heavy wind did much damage to fruit trees in this vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Calderwood and children Rosalind and May, Lee Clinton, Carleton Gushee and Richard Ames returned to Massachusetts Sunday after spending Memorial Day with friends here.

Planting is well underway and the busy hum of the tractor is heard.

Among the out of town guests Memorial Day were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moran and son, Mrs. Ralph Bennett, Mrs. Ora Ripley, Miss Ada Ripley, Mrs. Winnie Talbot, and several others.

Rev. Ardale Cross was a visitor in this place Wednesday, enroute to Rockland on his bicycle.

Truck loads of happy school children went to Belfast Thursday on a vacation picnic and passed a very happy day.

Mrs. Adella Gushue had as recent guests Alonzo Hawkes and son Nathan of Belmont, Mass. Mr. Hawkes is well known in Appleton and the following from the Belmont (Mass.) Citizen doubtedly will be of interest to many friends here: "Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo J. Hawkes of 32 Marlboro street celebrated their golden wedding anniversary May 18 at the home of their son Nathan W. Hawkes, 267 School street. Mrs. Hawkes was Miss Annie Evans, born in Appleton, Maine 1861 and Mr. Hawkes also was born in that town in 1866. Their son Nathan is vice president of the Boston & Maine R. R. They received many gifts including flowers, gold, etc."

Do not miss the sale going on all this week at Gorden & Lovejoy's, Union, Me. Sale closes Saturday night.—adv.

THE REALM OF MUSIC

Gladys St. Clair Morgan

It was with much interest that I heard the Harmonica Band of the Tyler School Fifth Grade during the Memorial Day exercises at the building. These youngsters under the combined efforts of the room teacher, Mrs. Nellie Hall, and the instructor, Mrs. Ruth E. Sanborn, have progressed to the point where they give a creditable performance. Considering the few lessons the children have had, it is surprising, as already they can play several of the old familiar airs, scales and other exercises. It is a commendable activity, particularly just now when the average child is jaded in mind and body after the long school year. It is hoped that the project will continue and broaden out to embrace the other city schools. The children played "America," and to assist them Mrs. Sanborn brought along the boys of the Year Round Club who have mastered the intricacies of the harmonica to a marked degree.

Also in these same exercises I had my first opportunity to hear one of the rhythmic bands Miss Stevenson has established in the schools this year, and it was a joy. They were sub-primary pupils, wearing cocked hats of red, white and blue for the occasion, and cute? To the strains of a stirring Sousa march, with one of the little pupils leading, these youngsters swung their bells, whacked their clappers and blocks and so on with almost perfect time from start to finish. The children love it and of course all music educators now recognize the invaluable rhythmic foundation it gives a child.

Kitty (Lottie) McLaughlin writes: "In spite of what we hear, there is a public for good music. I went to the Bowery a week ago to hear 'La Traviata'—a very good cast, an excellent young tenor and the soprano a friend of mine. The top price was $2.50 and the house was packed—foreign audience. It was a revelation to me. I overheard a man sitting near me say—I can hardly wait for Saturday night to hear 'Rigoletto'."

"I heard Barbara Maurel in recital—the best singing so far this season—not the greatest voice, but superb artistry and nuance. Ethel Hayden gave a dignified recital. "Among my most recent engagements was as soloist with a male chorus in Elizabeth, N. J., with Prof. Frank Van Neer conducting. I also sang at the communion breakfast of the English branch of the Arch-Confraternity of the Holy Family of the Church of St. Boniface, and on the same Sunday in the afternoon in a cantata, with Mr. Van Neer conducting; in Brooklyn, Mendelssohn's 'St. Paul.' May 27 I appeared at the Plaza Hotel as soloist with the Roxy Orchestral, a male organization, doing my favorite Italian Street Song, etc. I hope to bring all my engagements, church work, etc., to a finish in June so I can get home early in July."

The Universalist organ fund committee plans to present Miss McLaughlin in recital during the summer season, and along with this announcement is another bit of good news—which is that the committee is also to present Nettle Green Klitredge of New York and South Thomaston in a song recital. Rockland is extremely proud of the accomplishments of these two young women, and the opportunity to hear them in concert will be welcomed by their many admirers.

Two of the pupils of Lillian Sprague Copping are to be soloists in the graduation exercises—Miss Faith Ulmer of Rockland High and Miss Mildred Demmons of Thomaston High. It is gratifying that Mrs. Copping is continuing her work with such pleasing results.

Those who heard Carlos Salzedo recently in Boston will be interested to read a bit about his musical life which is taken, from the May issue of "Overtones" (from the Curtis Institute of Music).

Mr. Salzedo says there is no romance attached to the story of his choice of the harp as a medium of his musical expression. The study of solfege and piano was begun at the age of three, with entrance in the Bordeaux conservatory at seven, admission to the Paris Conservatoire at nine, and graduation in solfege at twelve, receiving at the same time a first medal for piano and admission to the advanced piano classes. His first composition written at the age of seven was a Sonata for piano. At the Conservatoire the piano continued to be his major, but the violin and medium did not entirely satisfy. Previously he had studied the violin, but four-stringed instruments were not strongly attractive. Thus the study of the harp was begun as a major subject. Piano and harp were studied equally and on graduating at the age of 16 he received on the same day the premier prix in both instruments, a feat that was unprecedented in the annals of the Paris Conservatoire and has never happened since.

Following this Edouard Colonne, founder of the famous Concerts Colonne, engaged Salzedo as soloist, and in ensuing tours of Europe his programs were divided between harp and piano, while soloist appearances with orchestras were equally as harpist and pianist. Finally at the age of 22 composing was taking up so much time that a choice between the two instruments seemed necessary, and his decision was in favor of the harp, dictated by the fact that there was an abundance of master pianists with on the other hand a decided insufficiency of harp virtuosos and harpists of outstanding musicianship.

In the May issue of two editorial of particular interest. One is a survey of tabulations regarding the Curtis students enrolled for the past season. Thirty-five states in this country are represented. From outside of the United States there are students from Canada, Cuba, England and Scotland, France, Germany, Hawaii, Holland, Hungary, Italy,

Lithuania, Poland, Porto Rico and Russia. For the students and members of the faculty who are not American citizens, the Curtis Institute has printed privately a pamphlet which without pretending to be a complete review of the immigration and naturalization laws, gives enough to provide a ready knowledge of the requirements in ordinary cases. The pamphlet, in fact, contains much which it is imperative for "alien" students of the Institute to know in determining correct procedure.

The other reads: "Most of us have already succumbed to the pianistic skill and conversational charm of the young lady of five years who recently came to join us—Miss Ruth Slenczynski. After the occasion of her first lesson with Madame Vengerova, Ruth confessed to us with a clairvoyant look into the future that her last lesson would be a matter of many years hence—perhaps not until she was 'twenty.' In spite of the remarkable things she does at the piano, there is nothing about her suggestive of the 'prodigy' in its conventionally unpleasant sense. She is a sturdy, quite natural, unaffected little girl, and let us hope that she will preserve these qualities throughout her life. Other youngsters have come to us: Harry Wolf, aged eight, studying violin; Eugene Orloff, also eight, and Broadus Erle, aged ten, studying the violin; and Sol Kaplan, aged eleven, studying piano. Let it seem to some that we are tending strongly towards prodigies and primary school ages, we hasten to recall our numerous older students, some of them close to thirty, and to point out the fact that the present average age of students is almost 21 (as it has been for the past three years)."

Many of us who heard the Bowdoin Glee Club concert a while back recall with pleasure Gunther Wilmsen, the young German student, who in broken English described the delightful songs he sang to the accompaniment of a guitar. Mr. Wilmsen, a special in the senior class, recently gave a recital and interpretation of German folk songs at the Moulton Union at Brunswick before an audience of students and townspeople. Before giving his selection he explained the development and decline of the German Youth Movement which was instrumental in reviving interest in the ancient and beautiful folk songs of Germany.

Miss Virginia Bean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Bean of Rumford, has been selected as the one Maine girl to attend the National High School Orchestra and Band Camp in connection with the department of music at the University of Michigan.

Only a few members of music clubs have the privilege of attending in fact, only two may go from Maine, one boy and one girl. This camp is sponsored by the Music Supervisors of the National Conference, the National Federation of Music Clubs, and the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music. Hundreds of young musicians attend yearly from every State in the Union as well as Hawaii and Alaska.

Prof. Frederick E. Bristol, renowned New York vocal teacher and conductor of the Summer School of Music in Harrison, is still active and continuing his work despite the fact that he is 81. Under his teaching have been such opera stars as Nordica, Sembrich, Alice Neilson, Charles Harrison, Sundell, Fremstedt and others who have built summer homes in Harrison and vicinity to enjoy his lessons. Prof. Bristol is already at Harrison, a guest at Bristol Lodge at present, and is planning to carry on his studio this summer.

In a collection of songs from G. Schirmer Inc., are two of particular interest—"The Prayer Perfect" by Oley Speaks, and "In a Garden of Dreams" by Annabel Morris Buchanan. The latter is dedicated to Mme. Elizabeth Rethberg, and is extremely lovely, with a ravishing accompaniment. This is published for high voice only and should make a delightful number for a summer song recital.

"FLYING LAWYER"

Rockland Man Gets New Title After Trip To Skowhegan

A Skowhegan special says: "Lake Wessumsett at Lakewood, Skowhegan, became an airport June 5 when the flying lawyer of Rockland, Alan L. Bird, piloted by Capt. W. H. Wincapaw of the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service, landed in seaplane No. NC90K, to attend the meeting of the Maine Telephone & Telegraph Co., being held at Lakewood. Mr. Bird had as his guests in the plane Mrs. A. C. McLoon, Mrs. H. P. Blodgett and Mrs. Glenn A. Lawrence of Rockland. They made the return trip to their home city by plane after the meeting.

"Capt. Wincapaw is in charge of the airport at Rockland, operated by the Curtiss-Wright Co. and Mr. Bird makes all possible business and social trips by airplane from that port. It may not be generally known that the airport at Rockland is one of the finest in the country and represents an investment of more than $100,000. There are only three other ports in New England rated A1A with Rockland, located at Boston, Springfield and Hartford.

"In connection with the airport at Rockland, Capt. Wincapaw conducts for his company, schools for all branches of aviation giving particular attention to the ground and flying courses of instruction. A branch has recently been established at Presque Isle. Mr. Bird is planning frequent visits to Lakewood by seaplane during the summer as Lake Wessumsett affords a perfect harbor for the boat."

Credit has to go onto a cash basis every so often.—William H. McMassters.

A THRILLING TRIP

Capt. Ned Davies Lost At Sea Three Days After Big Gale

A home news item in The Courier-Gazette early last week told how Capt. Ned Davies of Camden was taking the yacht Rose of Sharon to New York, but because it did not wish to create unnecessary alarm this paper did not state that there was considerable concern because the yacht had not been reported after the big gale. A Boston paper of Friday carried this story under a Provincetown date line:

Lost at sea for three days after the squall that swept the coast Sunday, the auxiliary schooner yacht, Rose of Sharon, owned by Thomas W. Lamont, partner of J. P. Morgan, crept into port here today with her crew of two men, exhausted from their efforts to bring the craft into port. The craft is brand new, and was enroute from Rockland, Me., to New York, to start for a trip to the Bermuda races, under charter, E. E. Davies of Camden, Me., and Freeman Atwood of Shelburne, N. S., were in charge of the vessel.

They lost their bearings after they were driven out of sight of familiar lights and landmarks off the Maine coast, and when the squall struck the Marconi rigging ship on Sunday afternoon her actual position was about 20 miles off Highland Light, but neither Davies nor Atwood had the faintest idea where the ship was, it was stated by Atwood. The squall spun the ship around, and heavy seas beset her, sweeping the vessel clear of deck gear. The engine broke down and the batteries were flooded, the men stated today, and they were forced, after all other expedients had failed, to batten the hatches and trust to luck to win through the storm.

The Rose of Sharon was driven for hours before the gale, making very heavy weather of it, and being constantly boarded by following seas. After the storm had blown itself out the men were hopelessly lost. They could not make out their position until Tuesday night when they picked up the Pollack's Rip light vessel. They mistook the lightship for a light in the vicinity of Portland. Later they saw the Pilgrim Monument at Provincetown and mistook the monument for Minot's Light. The men had to work the vessel in under light puffs of wind with only her sails. The engine was being repaired here tonight, while Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas of New York boarded the vessel here for the trip to New York. The Rose of Sharon is under charter by E. B. Donaldson of New York for a trip to the Bermuda races, and will be placed under command of a master when she reaches New York.

She was built by the Eastern Shipbuilding Corporation for Thomas Lamont, who plans to give the vessel to his children. She is a two-master, Marconi rigged, with a 30-horsepower engine. The craft is expected to proceed to New York through Cape Cod Canal and along the sheltered sounds.

THE LAKEWOOD PLAYERS

A diverting, highly amusing comedy is being offered by the Lakewood Players this week called "Nancy's Private Affair." It provides laughter and fine fun from the time the curtain rises until it falls on the last scene. The story concerns a man and his wife who have drifted apart. The man becomes entangled with a young woman after his money who is aided and abetted by a mercenary mother. The wife agrees to divorce provided her husband does not remarry within six months so that she can do so first. Then the wife plans to show up her rival by throwing another and wealthier man in her way. For the following week, Monday June 16, the Lakewood Players will appear in one of the finest American dramas ever written, "The Witching Hour." Augustus Thomas, the brilliant author of the play, considers it the best in the long list of successes he has written. That his judgment is correct is evident by the fact that "The Witching Hour" continues to be popular after so many years.
